Paint Brush Tips

Which paint brush do I use for various types of paints?

Painting tips: White Bristle versus Black Bristle paint brushes.

A natural bristle paint brush is made from animal hair, and is very soft and porous. For oil-based paints, most professionals choose a natural China-bristle (hog hair) paint brush. If you are painting a smooth surface with oil-based paint, a natural White Bristle paint brush is your best choice because it is soft and supple. When painting a textured surface, a natural Black Bristle paint brush will work better, because it is stiffer and has superior abrasion wear. When you require an ultra-fine finish, a brush blended with ox hair is the best choice.

Synthetic filament - When your choice in coatings is water-based (frequently referred to as latex), it is absolutely essential that you select a synthetic filament paint brush.

Measuring For A DIY Ceiling

When figuring out the layout for a room you want to always try to even out the border tiles in the room so it looks balanced and centered, instead of just starting with a full tile in the corner of the room and working your way out of the corner with full tiles.

For this example we will using 2'x4' tiles and the room will be 9' wide and 14'6" long and the ceiling joists will be traveling in the 9' direction. We will be placing my main T rows 4' apart.

Figure out the length of the border panels for the width of the room... Divide the width of the room by the length of a single tile: (9' divided by 4' = 2.25 panels) (.25 of a panel = 1'). Add the remainder to the length of a single tile and divide by 2:

(1' + 4' - 5' divided by 2 - 2'6") that gives a border panel length of 2'6" on each side of the room.

Now to figure out the width of the border panels for the length of my room. Divide the length of the room by the width of a single tile: (14'6" divided by 2' = 7.25 panels) (.25 of a panel = 6"). Add the remainder to the width of a single tile and divide by 2: (6" + 2' - 2'6" divided by 2 = 1'3"). That gives you a border panel width of 1'3" on each end of the room.

Now take all that information and draw out a layout of the ceiling grid. From that you can count up the quantity of parts needed for the project.

IDEAL AMERI-CANA METAL ROOFING

$215

Lin. Ft.

Adaptable to any environment, our popular Ameri-Cana panel is suitable for roofing or siding applications on agricultural, residential, light commercial or light industrial building.

Ideal Roofing's Ameri-Cana panel offers superior strength with a strong 80,000 PSI full-hard steel core and five specially designed 3/4" high ribs on 9" centers. Superior strength means savings on wood or steel purlins (consult your load table).

Weather tight Overlap- Ideal Roofing's Ameri-Cana Panel provides better protection against leakage with its built-in anti-syphon groove. This tight-fitting overlap design allows for drainage through its anti-syphon groove if water is forced inside as a result of capillary action. This feature makes the Ameri-Cana Panel ideal for use as a roofing sheet for long and low rafters (as low as 3/12 pitch).
